Well over 18 years ago I moved to West Palm Beach Florida so I could be involved in the life of my soon to be born baby daughter, Camera Anne Johns Summerfield. My move resulted in me and Cami having some incredible adventures together. We've flown to Hawaii, rode the trolly in San Francisco, drove up into the Rocky Mountains to our home in Canada, escaped to Chicago running from a Hurricane and hung out with my buddy Reid who has known her since she was one day old, rode across America on Amtrak, traveled to Sea World, Disneyland and Disney World where we met Mickey and Minnie, hung out at all the beaches in Florida and California, wandered around museums in Palm Beach, shopped for Christmas dresses on Worth Avenue, been to the circus in the leaky Tee Pee, swung up to Indy to see Cirque De Sole, went to get a puppy and soon there were three, Pippi, Buster, and Pooh, gone snow boarding and water rafting in Aspen, seen the Nutcracker at the Kravis 13 times in a row (so glad that's over), hurtled down countless water slides at a lotta water parks, I carried her around countless exotic birthday parties that had just overwhelmed her, went flying in a wind tunnel, well actually she and her mother flew while I watched, been camping, bowling, rollerblading, ice skating, gone to father daughter dances, wandered up and down the streets of Wellington begging for treats on Halloween, ventured on TRI Rail to see her hero Barney in concert down in Miami, then off to the Universal Studios to meet him in person, popped up to New York to watch the ball drop on New Years Eve, caught a couple of Broadway plays, went to the Zoos in Miami and San Diego. road the trolley through the Wild Animal Park in California, swam with the Dolphins in Orlando, walked the walk of fame in Hollywood,I foolishly rode all the rides with her at Disney where I held on to her (never again), went to Sunfest snd the South Florida Fair a bunch of times and even to one in Ft lauderdale with Cousin Jamie from Canada, did a few concerts, and dragged a few of my friends like Easter and Russ to some of hers, had some very special Christmas dinners at the Ritz, the Four Seasons, and with all the Disney characters at the Grand Floridian, lunched in Cinderella's Castle, skimmed over the everglades, had fun watching her at her sweet 16 party in her special dress with feathers, did lots of visits to San Diego to see Cousin Christina, Aunty Savvy, Uncle Reg and Rufus, with a short hop up to LA to see her Sister Candis, Nephew Nathaniel and Brother in law Charlie numerous times but none more special than when she was the flower girl at her sister's wedding, a little further north to Agura hills where she always loved to see and shop with her special friends Jan and Bob, we drove up the coast through Big Sur to Redwood City to see Uncle Jim and Aunty Barb, then on to the wine country in Sonoma County where we visited with Gordon, Tom and Brent at KZST, wandered through the Redwoods, took a private Jet to Mendocino for lunch, flew to San Diego for my big Birthday party but the medics had to come on in Dallas to take her off the plane because of what we think was peanut poisoning and we even watched The Panthers play Hockey in Ft Lauderdale. Hey we gotta do something for dad now and then

What a fun a great part of my life Cami these past 18 years and she proved that what Bob Dylan wrote was oh so so true because before I had her ... I was so much older then I'm younger than that now. I've had the extreme pleasure of watching Cami grow from a pretty little girl to the beautiful young lady she is today. I've gone from Da Da to Daddy to Dude and now back to Daddy again which of course is my favorite but when i hear it I notice a lot of the times it costs me money but well worth it. I've enjoyed every minute of watching her in plays, taking horseback, swimming, ballet, gymnastics, tennis, Tae Kwon Do and countless other lessons over the years and I couldn't be a prouder father as many of you read my Blog already know.

A new chapter is about to unfold in both our lives as Cami graduates from Wellington today and then soon will be off to college at SFU in Tampa. I'm going to miss her like crazy but my mission is now complete and it's time for me to think about where I want to spend the rest of my life. Cami, I'm pretty sure knows that I am her rock and always be and will always be standing to help and protect her for as long as she needs me to do so.

Please join me now in a toast to my beautiful daughter on this her graduation day. I love you so much honey and I couldn't be any prouder of you than I am today! xodaddyxo

PS Cami I'm still getting you that Beetle Rag Top! (oh I'm sorry honey do you need your glasses to read this part, are the words a little hard to make out)
