It's OK To Lie About Sex !

As I write this its early November and we're headed towards Thanksgiving, Christmas and yet another Florida winter. We Floridians like this time of year because it cools off plus the Humidity and the Hurricane Season go away. Mostly though it's still the same old thing as I look out my balcony and watch a rainbow deliver yet another pot of gold to my tiny Condo in West Palm Beach.

Joe Pa certainly found out the old saying that ten Atta Boys are soon wiped out by one Aw St " is sure true didn't he.

I'm not a big fan of Harvard Business School but then again I went to MIT so why would I be. OK OK so it was the "Manitoba Institute Of Technology" hey it is but a small technicality. My beef with Harvard is I'm not sure they ever turned anybody people who changed the world. I know a bunch of them rule the world but mostly they just stuff their own pockets. Besides that the Harvard folks needs to come up with some fresh new stuff soon, their old stuff ain't working anymore.

Back when I worked at CKY in Winnipeg the Music Director's job came open and a bunch of us applied for it. I got it because I was a musician, they used that as the tie breaker. Being a musician didn't qualify me to pick the hits but it sure did help me to figure out in what order they should be played and what oldies to use to balance texture and tempo. Doing a music station is like doing a Symphony you only use the research to figure out what tunes to put in your Symphony. The records are like musical notes and some of them don't belong together, they create a dis chord. It's sure easy to hear that there are very few musicians putting the music together on Radio right now.

Lets see if I can do the math here. If only 1% of the American population has more than a Million Dollars but 50% of Congressmen are Millionaires why is it the remaining 99% get stuck with the tab for their stupid decisions.

I told Candis when she was growing up that it was OK to lie to me about the sex part but I expected the truth from her about everything else. I think that would work rather well for America.

Bob Christy told me that good content on radio started disappearing during the Reagan era when the FCC decided Radio no longer needed to carry News.

I neglected a few weeks ago to mention while writing about my Father and our somewhat strained relationship how much I still miss him.

I understand there is big movement away from the big banks to credit unions. But wont that make the credit unions big too and doesn't big always seem to lead to evil.

How true is this. What to you call a bunch of millionaires sitting around watching football. The NBA.

You don't have to explain who the real boss is to anyone. The ones that claim they are usually aren't.

It doesn't really matter whether its PPM or the Diary most of your ratings still come from people who actually listen to your station rather than just hear it.

A woman you adore saying to you ... "Hey but we can still be friends" feels about the same as your Vet saying your dog just died but you can still keep him.

Any notion that driving down dusty rural dirt roads is a great experience exists only in a Country song.

I'm sure that Candis and Cami tire of me telling them how proud I am of them but I never heard it much so they get to.

It's sure easy to figure out that a lot of professional athletes didn't finish College.

Creativity is not taught in school but if your life plan is to become a multi millionaire your going to need to learn it.

I hear the new criteria is you have to be in the top 3 in the demo or you're fired. I used to think if I wasn't #1 I was fired. Fear is a great motivator.

I just read that Keriann Worley was being promoted to Market Manager of CC's cluster in Melbourne. Her comment that these were exciting times at Clear Channel sounded a little strange to me in the midst the over 200 people being fired at the same time. Oh I see she came up from sales. Never mind!

The reason Dee Jays don't make as much money as the rest of Show business is because they don't work from a script like the rest of Show business.

According to Steve Allan, management doesn't want their employees to be happy, they claim people work a lot harder when they are somewhere between disgusted and dissatisfied. How disgusting is that.

Why would we let people who buy and sell stock be in charge of us. We didn't vote for them.

I was a little shocked and bummed to read that Buzz was going away until I figured out it wasn't Buzz Barnett who was leaving it's Google Buzz.

There are now 7 billion people on our planet but only 13 of them look like the Angels from Victoria's Secret. How much should that gig pay.

Is it just me or am I seeing more and more new Mercedes Benz's sitting stalled by the side of the road. I wonder where those particular models were built.

Steve Jobs didn't believe much in research. He said it's not the consumers job to know what he wants.

What ever happened to those beautiful elite soldiers Gadhafi had as his personal body guards.
